

Battle May Be Fought in Ireland in Near Future

ULSTERMEN DETERMINED TO RESIST RULE BY DUBLIN PARLIAMENT

Home Rule Question Is Fraught with Difficulties

Before St. Patrick's Day, 1915, Rolls Around, Armies Now Drilling in Emerald Isle May Come to Clash.

London, March 14.—Tuesday will be the anniversary of the legendary birthday of St. Patrick. Clashes between the Catholic Irishmen and the Protestants of Ulster Province are expected, but these are nothing unusual for the saint's day or "Boone Water" day. The real question is: Will this St. Patrick's day mark the passing of the long years of peace in Ireland? Will Erin be deluged with blood, as she has been so many times before in her long history, ere St. Patrick's Day comes round in 1915? The coming twelfth-month is to decide the question of Home Rule in Ireland.

On the day when the patron saint of the Emerald Isle is honored her leaders will look to a future dark and menacing. Ireland is a house divided against itself. Despite the effects of compromise made in the last two weeks, the avoidance of bloodshed is problematical.

There are really three struggles for home rule involved in this question. More than a century Ireland has fought for the ending of British domination. At the same time Ulster Province is promising to appeal to arms before it will allow itself to be governed by the Catholic provinces. Thirdly, the Catholics in Ulster, who are not few in number, will not calmly submit to the rule of the Protestant Ulstermen. Cardinal Logue lived in Ulster and so does Joseph Devlin, who may succeed John Redmond as leader of the Irish Nationalists. In Belfast itself one of the four divisions is Nationalist and Catholic.

Triple Nature of Question.
The triple nature of this question is often lost sight of. But it is the real reason which prevents the acceptance of the various propositions to separate Ulster from the rest of Ireland; to give the Catholic provinces home rule and let Ulster stay closely connected politically with the rest of Great Britain.

That conditions have come to a pass no one now will deny. No one has denied it since December 6 last, when King George V. involved the customs consolidation act of 1910 to forbid the importation of arms and ammunition into Ireland.

There are today two armies of volunteers drilling in the island. The Nationalist army is the smaller and the more formless, because it was started more recently. Its strength is very hazy. Photographs of corps being inspected are not infrequently seen.

But the Ulster army, long derided, has a strength not so problematical as its opponents. On the evening of the day when King George officially recognized the Ulster Volunteers, the army order, Sir Edward Carson, the leader of the Ulster, said in a speech at Nottingham, England, that the Ulster volunteers had aggregated 100,000 a year before the present number 100,000. These are the men actually enrolled and serving. If it came to an actual clash, it is safe to say, that the Ulster could count on more than twice this number.

Two hundred thousand volunteers are not to be dismissed with a word. They could cause much trouble even for a detachment of the British army and should the volunteers of the South of Ireland be sent against them the conflict would be prolonged and sanguinary.

Belfast City of Wealth.
It is to be remembered that the Ulstermen have in their number most of the principal business men of Ireland. Belfast is the city of wealth, the place of mills and ship yards. The resources of Ireland would be at the disposal of the minority in the North, not the majority of the other provinces. Many keen observers believe this is the principal issue underlying the fight against home rule. They minimize the church and bring out the fears of the Belfast merchants that a Dublin Parliament would contrive to make Belfast pay all the taxes and have Dublin and Cork take the offices, lucrative contracts, and various patronage.

Yet the church issue is certainly a strong one. In a felicitous comparison a writer, who had just toured Ulster, recently said the Orange farmers reminded him greatly of the South African Boers, bigoted, a bit dull, but ready to fight to the death with a rifle in one hand and a Bible in the other. These men are not Celtic by descent, but Scotch or English. They came over mostly in the seventeenth century. Although they have absorbed much of the Irish character, including the brogue, they have seldom intermarried with the Catholics.

Both Sides Live in Past.

Both sides of Ireland live in the past in a manner surprising to a man from a country where the thought is all of the present or the future. The battle of the Boyne, where the Ulstermen fighting for King William defeated the Irish hosts of King James II, is but yesterday to the men of Belfast. And similarly the Celtic Irishmen in recounting the arguments for home rule begin with the Norman invasion and its cruelties. Cromwell is a living issue. The drunken Irishmen in the streets of Belfast can think of no worse insult than to yell "To hell with King William," and on the walls in the Catholic streets of Belfast the traveler sees scrawled by an invading Orange boy "To hell with the Pope!"

To the man on the spot there is no doubt that "Ulster will fight." Embittered centuries promise it. When Sir Edward Carson was ridiculed because his followers drilled with wooden rifles, he said: "Of course; would we show our real rifles and have them confiscated?" There are plenty of clever machinists in Ulster and rifle and cartridge factories could sprout like mushrooms. The signal corps of the Ulster volunteer army is equipped with wireless field telephones, and its dispatch riders have fast motorcycles. There is a fund of $500,000 already collected to be paid to the wives and children of the men who fall in defense of the Orange flag. Hospitals are prepared not only throughout the North of Ireland, but also in England and the South of France for the reception of wounded.

Women Are Active.
The real spirit underlying the Ulster movement is seen in the actions of the women. The famous Ulster covenant to resist home rule was signed by 250,000 women. Nearly 100,000 of these are now paying members of the Ulster Women's Unionist Council. At the annual meeting of this body in Belfast last January the activities of the women were shown to comprise the formation of ambulance and nursing corps, the establishment of post houses throughout Ulster for the dispatch of messages by the volunteer dispatch riders, the organization and working parties to make bandages and medical supplies, speaking, canvassing, and the distribution of literature in England and Scotland.

The rest of Ireland is not so roused as Ulster, yet the Celts have ever had the reputation of being the best fighters if properly led. There are, too, the Irish emigrants to be considered. A population greater than the present number of persons in Ireland has emigrated to the United States. In that country they have increased greatly, perhaps doubled, in number. They have also become wealthy in comparison with their condition in their mother country. What would the Irishmen in America do if Ulster should rebel against a Dublin government? Many would go back to fight. It is not to be doubted, and history shows that Americans of Irish descent will contribute heavily to support an Irish cause.

England has come to a dilemma, said Arthur J. Balfour, formerly premier, recently. As he was once chief secretary of Ireland his words carry weight. He says there are only two courses open to British statesmen in dealing with Ireland.

"They may maintain the union, and keep Ireland in full political communion with England and Scotland, or give Ireland, with or without Ulster, complete autonomy, requiring her to manage her own finances, pay her own bills, borrow on her own credit, control her own rebels, settle her own constitution, and remain or not, just as she may desire, a self-governing colony within the limits of the empire."

Before St. Patrick's Day, 1915, rolls around old Ireland may be again the battlefield she has been so often in history. Above are seen members of the Ulster Volunteer Army, who now number about 100,000 men who are determined to resist government by a Dublin Parliament. Below is a group of Royal Fusiliers, some of the men on whom the Ulstermen rely to suppress the movement in the North of Ireland and has progressed rapidly. The man shown in the inset above is Sir Edward Carson, the leader of the Orangemen or "Loyalists," as they call themselves, because of the massive nose and the Heracles chin. Sir Edward has one of the strongest faces ever seen. He says: "Ulster will fight!" His Irish opponents, however, are just as determined. Below is seen Arthur J. Balfour, the veteran English statesman and former chief secretary for Ireland, who believes the proposed home rule measure is ruinous.

century. Although they have absorbed much of the Irish character, including the brogue, they have seldom intermarried with the Catholics.

Both Sides Live in Past.

Both sides of Ireland live in the past in a manner surprising to a man from a country where the thought is all of the present or the future. The battle of the Boyne, where the Ulstermen fighting for King William defeated the Irish hosts of King James II, is but yesterday to the men of Belfast. And similarly the Celtic Irishmen in recounting the arguments for home rule begin with the Norman invasion and its cruelties. Cromwell is a living issue. The drunken Irishmen in the streets of Belfast can think of no worse insult than to yell "To hell with King William," and on the walls in the Catholic streets of Belfast the traveler sees scrawled by an invading Orange boy "To hell with the Pope!"

To the man on the spot there is no doubt that "Ulster will fight." Embittered centuries promise it. When Sir Edward Carson was ridiculed because his followers drilled with wooden rifles, he said: "Of course; would we show our real rifles and have them confiscated?" There are plenty of clever machinists in Ulster and rifle and cartridge factories could sprout like mushrooms. The signal corps of the Ulster volunteer army is equipped with wireless field telephones, and its dispatch riders have fast motorcycles. There is a fund of $500,000 already collected to be paid to the wives and children of the men who fall in defense of the Orange flag. Hospitals are prepared not only throughout the North of Ireland, but also in England and the South of France for the reception of wounded.

Women Are Active.
The real spirit underlying the Ulster movement is seen in the actions of the women. The famous Ulster covenant to resist home rule was signed by 250,000 women. Nearly 100,000 of these are now paying members of the Ulster Women's Unionist Council. At the annual meeting of this body in Belfast last January the activities of the women were shown to comprise the formation of ambulance and nursing corps, the establishment of post houses throughout Ulster for the dispatch of messages by the volunteer dispatch riders, the organization and working parties to make bandages and medical supplies, speaking, canvassing, and the distribution of literature in England and Scotland.

The rest of Ireland is not so roused as Ulster, yet the Celts have ever had the reputation of being the best fighters if properly led. There are, too, the Irish emigrants to be considered. A population greater than the present number of persons in Ireland has emigrated to the United States. In that country they have increased greatly, perhaps doubled, in number. They have also become wealthy in comparison with their condition in their mother country. What would the Irishmen in America do if Ulster should rebel against a Dublin government? Many would go back to fight. It is not to be doubted, and history shows that Americans of Irish descent will contribute heavily to support an Irish cause.

England has come to a dilemma, said Arthur J. Balfour, formerly premier, recently. As he was once chief secretary of Ireland his words carry weight. He says there are only two courses open to British statesmen in dealing with Ireland.

"They may maintain the union, and keep Ireland in full political communion with England and Scotland, or give Ireland, with or without Ulster, complete autonomy, requiring her to manage her own finances, pay her own bills, borrow on her own credit, control her own rebels, settle her own constitution, and remain or not, just as she may desire, a self-governing colony within the limits of the empire."

England has come to a dilemma, said Arthur J. Balfour, formerly premier, recently. As he was once chief secretary of Ireland his words carry weight. He says there are only two courses open to British statesmen in dealing with Ireland.

"They may maintain the union, and keep Ireland in full political communion with England and Scotland, or give Ireland, with or without Ulster, complete autonomy, requiring her to manage her own finances, pay her own bills, borrow on her own credit, control her own rebels, settle her own constitution, and remain or not, just as she may desire, a self-governing colony within the limits of the empire."

Arrangements have been completed by Potomac Lodge, No. 28, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, for the celebration of its seventy-fifth anniversary Friday evening, next, at its home hall.

HIBERNIANS TO HONOR SAINT AT BIG BANQUET

Pledges to St. Patrick Will Be Given by Alexandria Society Tomorrow Night.

NEW CHURCH STARTED TODAY

Alexandria, Va., March 15.—Alexandria division, No. 1, Ancient Order of Hibernians, at a meeting held this afternoon at St. Mary's Hall, decided to celebrate St. Patrick's Day with a banquet which will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the Hotel Rammel.

The principal speaker of the evening will be Representative A. B. Walsh, of New Jersey. A number of other prominent speakers will be present and make addresses. Arrangements were also made for a musical program which will be given. The banquet will be attended by a large gathering of members of the order.

A committee from the Hibernians this afternoon called on the mission priests, conducting a mission at St. Mary's Church, and presented them with a number of shamrocks sent to the local division from Ireland.

Ground will be broken tomorrow at Mount Ida, Alexandria County, for the erection of St. Rita's Catholic Church by Julian D. Knight, contractor, this city.

The edifice will be a two-story structure. The first story will be of cement block, while the second story will be of arch colonial brick with trimmings to match. The new edifice will cost about $10,000. Plans for the church have been under consideration for some time past.

With the entry of Thomas N. Dunbar into the field for common council from the Third ward the total number of candidates seeking the twelve vacancies in council is twenty-three. This also makes four contestants for common council from the Third ward.

They are A. D. Brockett and Charles J. Sullivan, incumbents; James W. Bales, and Thomas N. Dunbar. A primary will be held May 14. A number of the new candidates have already begun making a canvass for votes.

The mission which has been in progress for the past two weeks at St. Mary's Catholic Church, being conducted by the Redemptorist Fathers, was concluded tonight. A large congregation of men attended. The services were for men, and throughout were largely attended.

A white man named Gilmartin was brought to the Alexandria Hospital at 2 o'clock this afternoon suffering from a stab wound in the back of the head, and treated by Dr. M. D. Delaney, after which he left that institution. He was picked up on the county road by J. A. Kelly, of the Central Garage, and brought to this city.

The funeral of Clifford Lee Howard, who was killed when a safe fell on him at the Potomac Railroad yards, took place this afternoon from the Methodist Church at Annandale, Fairfax County. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Harrison, and burial was made in the cemetery at that place.

SHE'LL GUARD HER HENS.

Editor's Wife Becomes Deputy Sheriff, with Gun and Badge.

Minneapolis, Long Island, March 15.—Thieves who would coax chickens from the coops of Frederick Malmont, editor of the Sea Cliff News, and general manager of the Nassau Light and Power Company, are going to have a merry time.

Raid on the Malmont chickens have been so frequent in the last three weeks that Mrs. Carrie Golden Malmont, the editor's wife, applied to Sheriff Pettit today for permission to become a deputy sheriff.

Pettit was amused at first by the request, but Mrs. Malmont convinced him that because of her husband's frequent absence from home she needed authority and protection. So she was made a deputy sheriff and now has a badge, a revolver, and other comforts of home. She is the first woman deputy in Nassau County.

Fearing that other women will seek the honor Sheriff Pettit is going away on a vacation on Monday.

ADAMLESS DANCE NO SUCCESS.
Janesville, Wis., March 15.—Several weeks ago some forty of the younger society girls of Janesville gave an "Adamless" dance. They hired a public hall, and elaborate decorations, excellent music and refreshments and apparently enjoyed themselves. They even refused to permit the members of the "Adamses" to accompany them home after their evening's enjoyment and otherwise ignored them.

Previous to this event there had been a series of weekly dancing parties given by various young men. Since then but one has been given, and at this strange to say, over half of the young ladies present were from out of the city and the remaining half from Janesville were for the most part girls who had not attended the "Adamless" dance.

The question now asked is: "Has a boycott been established?" The young men who were slighted smile, and the girls are indignant and promise during the Lenten season to establish their position most firmly.

MAYOR'S WALNUT OIL

One Bottle Compound Hair Dye for either Hair or Beard.

A mercurial, economical product, reliable, safe, sure, simple, quick. Sold for 30 years in thousands of bottles and recommended in use as frequent testimonials from India, men and women of all ages and conditions. Shampooing or coloring with Walnut Oil has no effect on color of hair. Color all shades to deepest black. The natural without staining skin. Keeps hair beautiful and soft. Easily applied. Once a month, or by mail to receive and please you. Beware of imitations. Send for drug store or direct to the address MAYOR WALNUT OIL CO., Dept. Wash. 2827 Wyandotte, Kansas City, Mo., U. S. A.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

MARYLAND SENATORS KILL FARE ZONE BILL

Measure for Five-cent Rate from District Line to Berwyn Is Defeated.

BONDS FOR SCHOOL PROPOSED

Special to The Washington Herald.

Annapolis, March 15.—Senator Holmead's bill providing for the establishment of a 5-cent fare zone on the City and Suburban Railway from the District of Columbia line to Berwyn, Prince George County, a distance of about four and one-half miles, between which points two 8-cent fares now are collected, was killed in the senate last night, when an unfavorable report from the corporations committee was adopted by the senate. It is understood the committee considered the regulation of fares on railways was a matter for determination by the public service commission before whom the citizens will take the matter.

Capital Heights, Prince George County, east and adjacent to the District of Columbia is to have a new $20,000 school building, to be erected with funds obtained from bonds which Senator Holmead's bill directs the county commissioners to issue. The bill was favorably reported last night and was read the third and final time in the senate. It now goes to the house, where it is understood there is no opposition. There is some sentiment in the county favorable to submitting the question of issuing the bonds to the voters of the county.

Delegate Joseph Addison, of Prince George County, has introduced a bill fixing the salary of the sheriff of Prince George County at $1,200 a year. The pay of this officer now comes from fees, and it is claimed that the aggregate of these fees each year is three times the amount of the salary proposed. It is said the bill will be opposed by the sheriff, who has a bill to prohibit the employment of women in selling or distributing intoxicating liquors, and he also has introduced a measure prohibiting the sale of intoxicants within two miles of the District of Columbia, in Oxon Hill district. His bill to allow the people at a special election to be held next May to decide the question as to whether liquor shall be sold in sixteen of the nineteen districts in Prince George County is in the hands of the county delegation. The districts excused from voting on the question are Laurel, Vansville and Hyattsville.

THE ONLY THING GOOD ENOUGH TO STAND A 60-DAY TEST.
There is only one thing of any kind for rupture that you can GET on six days' trial. Only one thing GOOD enough to STAND such a long and thorough test.

That is our GUARANTEED RUPTURE HOLDEN. We'll make out especially for your case—made to your measure—and let you try it sixty days. We'll positively LEND it to you that long—without asking you to risk a penny.

If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or bothering you in any way, no matter how hard you work or strain—if it doesn't give you every claim we make—then you can send it back and it won't cost you a single cent.

Made on New Principle.
This guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Clute Automatic Mending Truss—is so utterly different from everything else for rupture that it has received EIGHTEEN separate patents. It is far MORE than just a truss. Made on an absolutely new principle.

Unlike everything else, it is SELF-REGULATING, and other comforts of home. She is the first woman deputy in Nassau County.

Fearing that other women will seek the honor Sheriff Pettit is going away on a vacation on Monday.

ADAMLESS DANCE NO SUCCESS.
Janesville, Wis., March 15.—Several weeks ago some forty of the younger society girls of Janesville gave an "Adamless" dance. They hired a public hall, and elaborate decorations, excellent music and refreshments and apparently enjoyed themselves. They even refused to permit the members of the "Adamses" to accompany them home after their evening's enjoyment and otherwise ignored them.

Previous to this event there had been a series of weekly dancing parties given by various young men. Since then but one has been given, and at this strange to say, over half of the young ladies present were from out of the city and the remaining half from Janesville were for the most part girls who had not attended the "Adamless" dance.

The question now asked is: "Has a boycott been established?" The young men who were slighted smile, and the girls are indignant and promise during the Lenten season to establish their position most firmly.

MAYOR'S WALNUT OIL
One Bottle Compound Hair Dye for either Hair or Beard.

A mercurial, economical product, reliable, safe, sure, simple, quick. Sold for 30 years in thousands of bottles and recommended in use as frequent testimonials from India, men and women of all ages and conditions. Shampooing or coloring with Walnut Oil has no effect on color of hair. Color all shades to deepest black. The natural without staining skin. Keeps hair beautiful and soft. Easily applied. Once a month, or by mail to receive and please you. Beware of imitations. Send for drug store or direct to the address MAYOR WALNUT OIL CO., Dept. Wash. 2827 Wyandotte, Kansas City, Mo., U. S. A.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

$10,000,000 a Year Wasted on Trusses

How 60 Days' Trial Protects You Against Throwing Money Away

Away with Worthless Makeshifts

Ninety-nine out of every hundred dollars spent for elastic and spring trusses might about as well be thrown away.

Close to ten million dollars a year in this country alone is practically wasted on such contraptions. And all simply because nine out of ten of them do not do what they claim to do. The only way in the world you can make sure of exactly what you're getting is by making a thorough SIXTY DAY TEST without having to risk any money.

A Mere Try-on Is a Snare.
You can't possibly tell anything about a truss or anything else for rupture merely by trying it on.

A truss or so-called "appliance" may seem all right at first and afterward prove utterly worthless. The only way in the world you can make sure of exactly what you're getting is by making a thorough SIXTY DAY TEST without having to risk any money.

The Only Thing Good Enough to Stand a 60-Day Test.
There is only one thing of any kind for rupture that you can GET on six days' trial. Only one thing GOOD enough to STAND such a long and thorough test.

That is our GUARANTEED RUPTURE HOLDEN. We'll make out especially for your case—made to your measure—and let you try it sixty days. We'll positively LEND it to you that long—without asking you to risk a penny.

If it doesn't keep your rupture from coming out or bothering you in any way, no matter how hard you work or strain—if it doesn't give you every claim we make—then you can send it back and it won't cost you a single cent.

Made on New Principle.
This guaranteed rupture holder—the famous Clute Automatic Mending Truss—is so utterly different from everything else for rupture that it has received EIGHTEEN separate patents. It is far MORE than just a truss. Made on an absolutely new principle.

Unlike everything else, it is SELF-REGULATING, and other comforts of home. She is the first woman deputy in Nassau County.

Fearing that other women will seek the honor Sheriff Pettit is going away on a vacation on Monday.

ADAMLESS DANCE NO SUCCESS.
Janesville, Wis., March 15.—Several weeks ago some forty of the younger society girls of Janesville gave an "Adamless" dance. They hired a public hall, and elaborate decorations, excellent music and refreshments and apparently enjoyed themselves. They even refused to permit the members of the "Adamses" to accompany them home after their evening's enjoyment and otherwise ignored them.

Previous to this event there had been a series of weekly dancing parties given by various young men. Since then but one has been given, and at this strange to say, over half of the young ladies present were from out of the city and the remaining half from Janesville were for the most part girls who had not attended the "Adamless" dance.

The question now asked is: "Has a boycott been established?" The young men who were slighted smile, and the girls are indignant and promise during the Lenten season to establish their position most firmly.

MAYOR'S WALNUT OIL
One Bottle Compound Hair Dye for either Hair or Beard.

A mercurial, economical product, reliable, safe, sure, simple, quick. Sold for 30 years in thousands of bottles and recommended in use as frequent testimonials from India, men and women of all ages and conditions. Shampooing or coloring with Walnut Oil has no effect on color of hair. Color all shades to deepest black. The natural without staining skin. Keeps hair beautiful and soft. Easily applied. Once a month, or by mail to receive and please you. Beware of imitations. Send for drug store or direct to the address MAYOR WALNUT OIL CO., Dept. Wash. 2827 Wyandotte, Kansas City, Mo., U. S. A.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.

Advertisements for the above mentioned products are placed in this paper for the purpose of informing the public of their existence and of the fact that they are for sale in this city.